

INSET

Agenda

Monday 16th April 2018

9.00am-4pm EYFS PRACTITIONERS – ‘High Quality Literacy in the EYFS: Inspiring children to Love to Read and Write’

This session will be led by Early Years Consultant, Sarah Kingham.

Focus:

How what we know about child development, and the technological age in which we and they live, can teach us how to support children as learners of literacy.

This active day's training will offer Early Years practitioners:

- An opportunity to further develop their understanding of the processes involved in writing, including the physical skills required when learning to write
- An opportunity to reflect upon ways adults can support children as developing writers through scribing their voice during both adult directed and child initiated learning
- A range of practical ideas to get children to want to write
- Ideas to support them in providing what children need in the enabling environment to encourage them to want to write
- Offer a clearer understanding of the place of 'shared writing' in both adult directed and child initiated learning – scribing children's voice

Please could all practitioners bring a copy of their favourite children's book, poem and rhyme/song to share

Lunch will be provided by the Kitchen

Cost - £80.

E mail Maria Panayiotou on mpanayiotou.309@lgflmail.org to reserve your space. Your school will be invoiced after the INSET day.
