<tr><td>Year 6 home learning spring project Human Rights Photograph

As part of our Human Rights topic, we would like the children to produce a photograph which highlights a particular human rights issue. The projects can be printed out and brought in to Mr Farmer, or emailed directly to jfarmer22.309@lgflmail.org</td><td colspan="2">We ask that the children wait to start this project until after the specific lesson on Photography has been taught, as this will contain important information about the requirements of the project. This lesson will be delivered during the week beginning 11th February.

Here are some entries from last year…

4	Write a Book review 	Open	Audience: to be displayed as book marks in school library books
Before selecting a book the children will have the chance to read a fellow pupils review of the book. The aim is to have a review inside every library book.		Children to write a book review; follow the link below.
5	Share a recipe 	Thursday 4th April Friday 24th May	Audience: to be displayed as book marks in school library books
Children are asked to write and create a salad, main course or pudding recipe to share with the school community. All recipes will be collected into a Rhodes Cook Book and some entries will even be selected and put onto the Summer term school meal menu.		Children are ask to write a recipe, with instructions for making on the form below. Children may want to photograph the process or end product to display in our very first school cook book.
6	Art research project	By the end of each half term.	Audience: to presented in an assembly
This year the home learning art project focuses on artists that will be exhibiting in London into 2019. Ms Sawyer thought it would be great for children to have the opportunity to visit an exhibition featuring the artist they have researched. 		The suggested artists and designers children may wish to research on this year are listed below: • Renzo Piano (Architect) 15th Sept 2018 to 20 Jan 2019 - Royal Academy • Vincent Van Gogh (Artist) 27th march to 11th August 2019 - Tate Britain • Olufur Elliason (Artist) 11th July 2019 to 15th January 2020 - Tate Modern • Franz West (Artist) 20th Feb to 2nd June 2019 - Tate Modern • Christian Dior (Fashion designer) Starting 2nd Feb 2019 - Victoria and Albert Museum Research is welcomed in a variety of forms. Children may wish to develop an artwork in ANY media that connects to their artists/designers (sculpture, painting, collage, etc) or produce research in the form of a power point or poster. Projects can be done individually, with family or a friend.
