Headteacher: Adrian Hall

Tuesday 14th February 2023

Dear Rhodes Avenue Community,

It is with unspeakable sadness and shock that we write to inform you that our Head Teacher, Adrian Hall, passed away suddenly with family around him on Monday 13th February. He was 44 years old. We know this news will come as a terrible shock for the entire school community and we cannot begin to describe the sense of loss at his passing. Our deepest condolences are with his family, especially his husband Daniel, their son Jaiden, his mother Cynthia and his wider family.

We are aware that this news will be incredibly difficult to process for many people. The school will be open on Thursday 16th Feb between 10am-3pm and educational psychology support from Haringey will be on site for anyone who needs support. We will release further information on arrangements for the school in the following days.

It is difficult to find the words to express how much Adrian meant to so many people. He was truly an inspiration to everyone who had the privilege of meeting or working with him. His unstoppable energy, passion and vision for creating a fairer world will be just one of his many legacies he leaves to the staff, children and community of Rhodes Avenue School and beyond.

We keep his family at the forefront of our minds as we navigate this truly difficult time and appreciate your kindness and patience in the coming days and weeks.

Yours sincerely

Fiona Doyle and Helen Walsh
